Click Upload Files and find the file that you want to put on the wiki. Select that file and then it will appear in the Images and Files box.

At the bottom of the window, there is a pagination bar with the text '« Previous' followed by a series of numbered buttons (1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, ..., 13) and 'Next »'.

The screenshot shows the 'Images and Files' window with the 'External Image' tab selected. The search bar is empty. The file list now shows only one file: 'John Adams' Views on Citize...merica.pdf' with a PDF icon. A red arrow points from the text box to this file. The 'Upload Files' button is still present. The 'Click To' dropdown menu is still set to 'Embed File'. A red-bordered text box is overlaid on the file list with the following text:

Click on the file you uploaded and it will then appear on the wiki.
